Love you

My dear Maria, Life is so unpredictable. Changes always come along, in big or small ways. I don't know what happened but this sudden change has turned my world upside down. I don't know exactly what it is, it just hit me, but there is something really special about you.

It might be all the things I see on the surface, the things that everyone notices and admires about you, qualities, capabilities, and a wonderful smile connected to a warm and loving heart; these things set you apart from everyone else. But it may also be the big things ... the person you are that I hope to know more about someday. And it might also be the little things like all your actions. I receive so much joy just being able to have the thought of having you in my life. If I ever figured out the magic that makes you so special, I'd probably find out that it's a combination of all these things. You are a rare combination of so many special things. You are amazing.

Inside of me, there is a place where my sweetest dreams reside, where my highest hopes are kept alive, where my deepest feelings are felt, and where my favourite memories are safe and warm. I find that you're on my mind more often than any other thought. Sometimes I bring you there purposely just to make my day brighter. But more often, you surprise me and find your way into my thoughts. There are even times when I awaken, I realise that you've been a part of my dreams. Then during the day, when my imagination is free to run, it takes me into your arms and allows me to linger there knowing there's nothing I'd rather do. I know my thoughts are only reflecting the loving hopes of my heart because whenever they wander, they always take me to you.

Only the most special things in my world get to come inside my heart and stay. And now, I realise how deeply my life has been touched by you. Maria, you are the only one who can make me happy with your love and affection. Since I have met you, I have noticed that life is worth living. I live mine for you. You have stolen me from me. Alone I can be lost. So, do not let the distance between us become larger. Each day is more wonderful than the previous one as I know that I will see you soon. A heart truly in love never loses hope but always believes in the promise of love, no matter how long the time and how far the distance. There are so many ways I want to tell you that I love you, my sweetheart.

I love you and I will always love you. Loving you is something I love to do.....
